Transitions

Group Coaching

Do you have a knowing that there could be more...that you could be more?

Are you contemplating a career or life style transition?

Would you like to be inspired by the life you are living?

If any of these questions resonate with you, then this is the group you have been waiting for!

Join the new “Transitions” group led by Evolutionary Life and Career Coach Deb Busser, M.A., co-founder of the global ‘new easy women’, movement and co-author of new easy women: unleash your creational power with colleagues from the UK.

This group will explore creating a vibrant, magnificent way of living and being through discussion, group exercises, movement, music and more. We know that when a group of women unite with a common purpose that the potential for everyone expands exponentially!

And since we co-create our experience together, this group will be tailor-made for the people that come together for it. You will experience the pure potential of an exciting new way of being and will be empowered to create a life of ease and grace ... sourcing the world of your dreams.

Some of the concepts we will explore include:

- Connecting to self, others and potential
- Unleashing your creational power
- Choosing the perspective that liberates you
- Creating with passion, living with ease, evolving for all

Comments from past New Easy Women participants:

*I'm dancing in the dance of life - my life - and it's in total congruence with all my values, beliefs and whole 'raison d'etre'. It's my 'dance' and I love it! This is an experience that I never want to let go of and it is making such a difference not only to my life but already to those around me and those I know. Julia Miles, UK

*Deb and Lynne can work with everyone to bring about transformation regardless of age, personal backgrounds, ethnicity and gender. The space they create is crystal clear, and loving, enabling people to move into their higher selves and highest potential. Lynne and Deb are very gentle, brilliant, non-judgemental, humorous, and totally authentic women. Lisa O'Malley, US
